

Brandon L. McGee is the co-owner of The McGee Law Firm. Brandon born and raised in Dallas, Texas and attended Texas Christian University where he earned his B.A. in 1998. He graduated from Emory University School of Law in 2001.

After law school Brandon moved back to Texas to practice law. This is where he met his wife, Rita who is also an attorney, whom he married in 2005. Rita McGee is a fee attorney for Capital Title.

Brandon can be found most Saturday's cheering and socializing at TCU football games. TCU Horned Frogs traditions run deep with Brandon. Brandon and wife, Rita are raising their twin sons to be future Horned Frogs.

Raising twin boys keeps the McGee home hopping. Brandon and Rita frequently spend time on the weekends running between tennis tournaments and baseball games.

Brandon spent the first few years of his legal career practicing as a trial attorney, litigating civil cases and divorces. As he worked with his clients through life changes, he found himself doing more and more estate planning. But it wasn't until the death of his father and a breast cancer diagnosis for his wife Rita, did Brandon realize that life is short, too short and you better do something you really love. After much reflection, Brandon realized his favorite part of his law practice was estate planning, elder law, and probate. So, with that realization, Brandon made the firm commitment to stop taking litigation and divorce cases and to only do what he loved – Help Families.

Today, Brandon enjoys a successful law practice focusing on estate planning, elder law, Medicaid preplanning and crisis planning, VA Aid & Attendance, and probate. Brandon and his team combine legal skills with compassion and understanding in developing estate plans personalized to the needs of each client. Brandon also believes proper estate planning is more than just a drafted document, it is building long term lasting relations with his clients so that he is here to help in every stage of life. He is a member of the State Bar of Texas, the National Academy of Elder Law Attorneys and the only DFW member of the prestigious American Academy of Estate Planning Attorneys.
